UCT staff member dismissed

The University of Cape Town confirms that a staff member was dismissed on Thursday, 29 June 2017 after a very disturbing incident which took place on campus earlier this month, which we condemn in the strongest possible terms. The dismissal follows a formal disciplinary process during which the matter was handled in accordance with UCT's internal procedures. The university condemns this invasion of privacy. UCT has services available to offer the necessary support to the other staff member involved in this incident.
