Launch of the Metrological and Applied Sciences University Research Unit

29 August 2018 | 16:30 for 17:00 | Lecture Room LT 4A | RW James Building | Upper
Campus | University of Cape Town

The University of Cape Town (UCT) invites members of the media to the launch of the Metrological and Applied Sciences University Research Unit (MeASURE) which has recently been established within the Department of Physics at UCT.

The focus of the unit is on applications which require novel measurement techniques, particularly using neutron and gamma radiation, and nanoelectronics at ultracold temperatures. MeASURE is also interested in the advancement of reference standards for measurement and offers measurement services to industry and science education.

The launch will involve a tour of the facilities.

RSVP before 31 July to jill.patel@uct.ac.za
